

Fred R. Clark
Editor-Publisher

"The People's Paper"
Phone Market 3-5183

The New Jersey Guardian

129 WEST MARKET STREET
NEWARK, NEW JERSEY

February 9, 1940

Mrs. Effa Manley,
55 Somerset Street,
Newark, N.J.

My Dear Mrs. Manley;

I was very glad to have seen you yesterday as I had been wanting to see you and I called at your home twice and found no one home.

I did not tell you last night, but after reading the blast set off against you by the Baltimore editor, I decided to answer him in my next week's issue. As you know, I will fuss with you and you with me but I will not stand for any one doing any thing to you without my resentment.

Knowing that Mr. Turner, my assistant would see you today, I am asking you to do me the usual favor by making me a small loan in the sum of $25.00 which I am sure you will do without hesitation. If it is oh, you may send the check by Mr. Turner.

Thanks a million.

Very truly yours,

F.R. Clark